

Editorial Comment.

Indians on the warpath,
Moguls closing in;
Season almost over,
Wonder who will win?

Capt. Albert Brown at New York
swam 22 miles in 13 hours and 38 minutes.

Be prepared to see Sherbrooke,
like Tennyson's brook, "Go on and on forever."

A Boston broker lost $50,000 by being two minutes late in keeping an engagement.

The currency bill passed the Democratic house caucus with only 9 opposing votes.

The Madisonville Hustler says D.
H. Kincheloe is a sure entry in the race for Congress.

The slit skirt is the natural sequel to the hobble skirt. It had to be slit to keep it from tearing.

No wonder the people of Sherbrooke, Can., feel kindly towards Thaw. He put them on the map.

A Sebree woman had her hip broken by an unruly calf that objected to being held while its mother was being milked.

While out riding with her fiancé,
in Vermont, Miss Jessie Wilson was thrown from her horse and rendered unconscious by the fall. No bones were broken.

The only interest New York can now have in Thaw is to keep him from being at large in that state, on the idea that he is an insane man.
He has been acquitted of the criminal charge against him.

Mr. Ed Callahan and her brother, Leonard Deaton, were charged with complicity in the killing of Green-berry Combs, in Breathitt county.
Mrs. Callahan was acquitted at the examining trial and Deaton held over.

At Owensville, Ind., corn huskings
are still kept up as winter entertainments, and the boys kiss the girls
when red ears are found. The girls are already complaining of the shortness of the crop of red ears, due to the drouth.

Chas. S. Whitman, district attorney in New York, is endorsed for re-election by the fusion, republican,
progressive, independence league and Tammany organization. The last endorsement was not asked for,
the fusionists protesting against it.

Prospects are brighter for peace in Mexico. Huerta has asked Lind to return from Vera Cruz to Mexico City to resume negotiations and is expected to make concessions. A hopeful view is taken at Washington.

Following the example of Missouri
we suggest that Gov. McCreary name the first three days in October for every male citizen in the state to turn out and work on the roads.—
Elizabethtown News.

Fine idea, but it should be borne in mind that Gov. Major grabbed a shovel and said, "Come on, boys."

A fire occurred on board the big ship Imperator while it was lying at the dock at New York. Nearly 1200 passengers in the steerage were hastily gotten ashore and the fire was put out after it had done heavy damage. The Imperator is 915 feet long and 90 feet above the water.
Two men were killed in fighting the fire.

Thaw won three points Wednesday. New York State was denied the right to be a party to the suit.
The court denied the motion to have the commitment quashed and let the immigration authorities handle the case and also granted the withdrawal of the habeas corpus plea.
There was a great outburst of sympathy shown by the people of Sherbrooke.

Mrs. W. B. Owen, after a two weeks visit to St. Louis, has returned home.

BEST MUSIC
FOR THE FAIR

Best Regimental Band in Kentucky to Delight
the Crowds.

28 PIECES IN THE BAND.

Lebkuecher's Talented Musicians
On Hand Five Days and Nights.

The directors of the Pennyroyal Fair have demonstrated their good judgment in engaging the Third Regiment Band to furnish the music
during the five days and nights of the Fair, commencing Tuesday, October 7th.

This band, under the directorship of Prof. Harry Lebkuecher, has the reputation of being the best regimental band in Kentucky. It has been heard at different encampments where other bands have played and has always been voted the favorite.

The music will be one of the principal features of the fair and the band will be in fine shape. There will be 28 pieces in the aggregation
and the repertoire embraces not only the classical but rag-time and all popular melodies, old and new.

Lebkuecher and his band, are so well known in this immediate section that it is useless to say anything in their praise. The thousands from a distance that will hear them may expect something far better in the way of delightful band music than they are not accustomed to.

The men keep in constant practice and are always ready for any demand made upon them, but in two or three weeks they will begin having nightly rehearsals in preparation for Christian County's and Hopkinsville's greatest of all events.

Hopkinsville is justly proud of the Third Regiment Band.

The men composing the band are mechanics, clerks, book-keepers, etc., but they always find time to answer Director Lebkuecher's call for practice. Mr. Lebkuecher has had many discouragements to meet and overcome, but he is a man of dogged determination as well of patience, and by most strenuous effort has kept his organization together.
When one man has left the city he has always been on the lookout for another to take his place, and to-day
we have as good a musical organization of its kind as can be found in the State, Louisville not excepted.

HELD TO THE GRAND JURY.

Alleged Seducer and Family Disturber had Examining Trial.

Two negroes, Charles Watkins and Emmett Collier, had their preliminary trials in the County Court the first of the week. A warrant had been issued for Watkins' arrest on the charge of seduction. He was committed to jail. Collier was more fortunate, as he was able to execute bond for appearance before the jury
on the charge of inhumanly beating his children.

TO MARRY

And Take Up Her Residence In Louisville.

Mrs. Ollie Hord left this city last Tuesday, taking her children with her. She stated before leaving that she was engaged to be married to Mr. W. E. Bates, in the employ of the I. C. Railroad Co., at Louisville.
Mrs. Hord is the widow of the late Chas. E. Hord, a policeman who was killed near the L. & N. passenger station several years since. Mrs.
Hord said that she and Mr. Bates would make their home in Louisville.

NEAR SERIOUS ACCIDENT

Mrs. Long and a Little Girl Thrown From Buggy at Casky.

Mrs. Edgar Long and Dr. Sandbach's 6-year-old daughter came near being the victims of a serious accident at Casky last Wednesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Long attended prayer meeting, taking with them Dr.
Sandbach's little daughter. Returning from prayer meeting Mr.
Long stopped his horse to let the little girl out, and Mr. Bryan Owens, who was driving a young horse and ran into Mr. Long's buggy at the back with such force that Mrs.
Long and the little girl were both thrown to the ground. The little girl was not injured in the least but
Mrs. Long was considerably bruised.

KISSED THE BRIDE

Paducah Magistrate Not Afraid Of Microbes.

After performing the ceremony
that united Miss Mayme Stewart,
a well known young woman of Paducah and Arthur Francis of Mounds, Ill., in wedlock Magistrate C. W.
Emery, who had known the bride for several years put one over on the groom Monday by kissing her first.

Opposition For Thomas.

J. C. Browder of Russellville announces that he will be a candidate for the Democrat nomination for Congress in the third district to succeed
R. Y. Thomas, Jr., of Greenville.

HENSON'S HAT
IN THE RING

Almost a Certainty That Henderson Jurist Will Run For Congress.

The Gleaner joins the Henderson
Journal in the complimentary notice
appearing in its Sunday issue relative to Judge J. W. Henson as a popular candidate for congress.

The many Democratic friends of Judge Henson throughout the Second congressional district will be delighted to learn that he is seriously considering entering the race to succeed Congressman A. O. Stanley, who is an avowed candidate for the United States senate.

Judge Henson is too well known to the voters of Henderson, Union and Webster counties to need any lengthy introduction. It is almost positive that every Democratic voter in the three counties knows him, may be not personally, but professionally, and as judge of the circuit court, all are acquainted with him. He has a large circle of warm friends and acquaintances in Daviess, Hopkins, Christian, McLean and Hancock counties—the other five counties composing the Second district. In Daviess and Christian counties particularly, Judge
Henson has many loyal friends,
and it is the Gleaner's belief should he decide to enter the fight he will command great strength in all counties outside his judicial district.

It is the opinion of his closest friends that should he get into the race he will sweep Henderson, Union and Webster counties, as it has been stated no Democrat in this judicial district enjoys the confidence of the voters more than Judge Henson.

He has served on the circuit bench
nine and one half years and his rulings have met with general satisfaction and few of his decisions have been reversed by the court of appeals. His services on the bench, his knowledge of the law and his deep interest in farming will fit him
well to perform the duties of congressman should he make up his mind to enter the race, and if chosen by the Democratic voters of the district.—Henderson Gleaner.

DANGER SOUNDED

President Sends Messages to Consuls, Warning U. S. Citizens to Leave War Zones.

WILL GIVE FINANCIAL HELP

Warning Follows Message Read to Congress by President in Person.

Our Mexican Policy

No intervention.
No recognition.
No shipment of arms.
Advise Americans to leave.
Protect those remaining.
Hold friendly attitude.

Washington, Aug. 29—President Wilson has warned all Americans to leave Mexico at once. At the same time the American embassy and all consular officers throughout the southern republic were instructed
"to notify all officials, civil and military in Mexico," that they would be held strictly responsible for harm or injury to Americans or their property.

In his message, which was in the nature of an appeal to the moral forces of this and foreign nations,
the president made it clear that he based high hopes upon the effect the announcement of this government's policy will have upon, not only the people of this country and the governments of other nations, but upon the people of Mexico themselves.

Death of Infant.

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. L.
R. Crawley deeply sympathize with them in the death of their 3-months-old son, which occurred last Wednesday afternoon. Infant troubles were the cause. After funeral services at the home on North Main street, conducted by Rev. A. R. Ka-sey, the remains were taken to Cadiz for burial.

Barbecue at Pembroke.

Pembroke will entertain the Health Campaigners today with a free barbecue at the Horse Show grounds. The same speakers who have been heard elsewhere will address the big crowd expected to be present.

AFTER SIX YEARS

Miss Adelia Clifton Pays Flying Visit to City.

Miss Adelia Clifton, who was for many years one of the most popular teachers in the city public schools, was in the city Thursday, enroute to Clarksville, where she will spend a few days before going to Oklahoma City to resume teaching in the schools there. Miss Clifton went to Oklahoma City six years ago when former Superintendent Taylor left Hopkinsville and went there to take charge of the schools. She spent her vacation among the lakes of New Hampshire and is on her way home from there. She has many friends here who were glad to see her.

Sides With "Werta."

President Huerta is exactly right
in his assertion that President Wilson is not backed up by public sentiment
in his stand in Mexican affairs. President Wilson is for peace, and the American nation is for thrashing
Huerta clear out of his pants.—
Glasgow Times.

Labor Day.

Next Monday will be Labor Day,
a legal holiday. The banks and postoffice will be closed.

BACK FROM PARIS.

Brilliant Young Scholar, Ernest Murphey, Returns From Abroad.

Mr. Ernest J. Murphey has returned from abroad and is visiting his father, Prof. E. J. Murphey, at Pembroke. Mr. Murphey graduated from the Kentucky University six years ago and was selected on graduation by the United States government to go to the Philippine Islands
as a manager in the educational department. After spending three years there he returned for a vacation and returned for three more years in the same work. This was concluded last February and he went from the Philippines to France and entered the University of Paris to finish his education in the modern languages, French, German and Spanish, which he had been studying for six years and was familiar with but wanted to be able to converse in these languages, as he expects to make the teaching of these and of Latin and Greek his life work. After a six month's stay in Paris, Mr. Murphey landed in New York on the 26th and was due in Pembroke yesterday. This is the first time he has visited his old home
in several years and he will remain
but a short time, as he will seek employment at once. His friends in this county are glad to welcome him home and to know that he is making good in his chosen profession, a profession that has furnished the country with its two last Presidents. He is one of a number of brilliant young men who have gone out of Christian county to reflect credit on the county and the State.

ISAAC GARROTT

Passes Away at Pembroke
Wednesday Night, Aged 66 Years.

Prominent As a Citizen, Political Leader and Man of Affairs.

In Thursday's issue mention was made of the serious illness of E-quire Isaac Garrott, of the Pembroke neighborhood, and at the time it was hoped that Mr. Garrott might rally, but in two hours after the Kentuckian was mailed Mr. Garrott passed away, aged 66 years. He never recovered from a paralytic stroke of two years since.

Mr. Garrott was a typical South Christian farmer, prosperous and intelligent and no man had more friends than he. A man of his type is a great loss to the community where he was so well known for his integrity and unassuming manner. He belonged to one of the largest and wealthiest families of the county, and though he had lived on his farm all his life he was engaged in his latter years in the tobacco business in Pembroke.

He is survived by Mrs. Garrott
and one son, R. J. Garrott. L. O.
Garrott, of Pembroke, is a brother of the deceased and Mrs. J. S. Line-baugh, of Pembroke, is a sister.

He was born in Christian county,
June 8, 1847, being the second son
of Robert W. and Sallie Pendleton Garrott. He was a life-long member of the Salem Baptist church and belonged to the Pembroke Masonic lodge.

He served as a justice of the peace
for one or more terms, was chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee of Christian county for several years and in 1899 was chairman of the Election Board of the county.

To Be A Nun.

Miss Nora McCall, a young New York belle, niece of the Democratic candidate for Mayor of New York,
E. E. McCall, is to forsake a promising musical career and enter a convent next month.

BACK TO SCHOOL

City Public Schools Open Auspiciously Next Monday
Sept. 1.

TO BE LARGEST ENROLLMENT

Superintendent and Principals
Have About Completed
All Details.

With a full corps of experienced teachers and principals the doors of the Hopkinsville public schools will be thrown open next Monday for the reception of pupils for the 1913-14 term.

The Superintendent, J. W. Marion,
and Prof. Girton, of the High school,
have been here for some time arranging matters for the work that is before them and everything is about ready for the opening.

The enrollment in the High school
is expected to aggregate nearly 300,
and the course of study is already mapped out. The chemical laboratories are in fine shape and ready for immediate use. The library,
both as to circulation and reference,
has never been in better shape. The board has been making extraordinary efforts to secure a teacher for the manual training class and have fitted up two rooms in the basement
for this purpose, which includes mechanical drawing.

There is one thing that parents should not fail to attend to. The law requires all children attending the public schools of the city to have been successfully vaccinated before entering. Parents should see to this, as the health officer and school trustees are going to see that the law is strictly complied with, and children presenting themselves will be sent home if parents have been remiss in their duty.

A New Departure.

Superintendent Marion had a three days conference with the grade teachers of the city schools this week with the result that the children were furnished with lists of books to be bought so that there would not be a rush of children and overrunning the clerks at the store on the same day. C. R. Clark & Co., only handle the prescribed books and hundreds of children and their parents have already gotten through with that trouble incident to the pupils going back to their studies. Its
a new departure, but a good one.

13-YEAR-OLD GIRL

Found Guilty of Breach of the Peace But Not Punished.

Last Wednesday a girl by the name of Casky Hart was found guilty of a breach of the peace in the county court. She is only 13 years of age and Judge Knight, not desiring to punish an offender so young, sent her to her mother at Cerulean, who pledged herself to do all she could to make home pleasant for her.

LAFAYETTE COUPLE

Before Hymen's Altar Last Week.

August was one of Cupid's dullest months for a long time, only nine marriage licenses being issued during the month. Of the nine couples made happy at the altar were Miss Lillian Moss and Mr. Edward Daniel, of near Lafayette. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride.
They will make their home on the Moss' farm, not far from Lafayette.

Cole Younger, the reformed bandit, has joined the church at Lees Summit, Mo.

Hopkinsville Kentuckian

Published Every Other Day,
TUESDAY, THURSDAY and SATURDAY MORNINGS, BY
CHAS. M. MEACHAM.

Entered at the Hopkinsville Postoffice as Second Class Mail Matter.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:
ONE YEAR.....$2.00
SIX MONTHS.....1.00
THREE MONTHS......50
SINGLE COPIES......5c

Advertising Rates on Applications
112 SOUTH MAIN STREET.

Democratic Ticket.

State Senator—R. M. Salmon.
Representative—J. C. Duffy.
County Judge—Walter Knight.
County Clerk—Lucian J. Harris, Jr.
County Attorney—Ira D. Smith.
Sheriff—Jewell W. Smith.
Assessor—W. J. McGee.
Jailer—A. E. Mullins.
School Supt.—L. E. Foster.
Coroner—J. H. Rice.

MAGISTRATES.

District No. 2—J. M. Morris.
" " 3—Sylvester Reese.
" " 4—W. W. Garrett.
" " 5—L. D. Rogers.
" " 6—C. L. Dade.
" " 7—J. W. Cox.
" " 8—C. W. Lyle.

CONSTABLES.

District No. 2—T. S. Winfree.
" " 5—J. F. Adcock.
" " 7—L. W. Means.
" " 8—C. L. Hight.

COUNCILMEN.

First Ward—Chas. J. Gee.
Second Ward—S. G. Buckner.
Third Ward—J. A. Southall.
Fourth Ward—G. W. Carloss.
Sixth Ward—R. M. Wooldridge.
Seventh Ward—Bailey Russell.

The Philipino words for base ball are "miki fula." That's about what it does over here.

A porch dance was a society event
at Cairo, Ill., one night this week,
given by Mrs. Hugh R. Johnson.

Sulzer's enemies are charging that he hid behind his wife's skirts. Not if she wore a hobble skirt, unless William is built like a match.

Leo M. Frank, a factory superin-
tendant at Atlanta, was found guilty of murdering little Mary Phagan
and sentenced to be hanged Oct. 10.

The impeachment proceedings against Gov. Sulzer, of New York, are a part Tammany's warfare on him for refusing to pardon Becker
and do its bidding in other matters.

Reversing the ancient custom of marching the captives before the populace as object lessons, President Gomez, of Venezuela, on Tuesday required 20 of his Castro rebel captives to review 6,000 soldiers in battle array, as they deployed past, the prisoners standing in the hot sun.
The next step will probably be to take them out and shoot them.

To Slow for Him.

A German farmer was in search of a driving horse.
"I've got just the horse for you,"
said the liveryman. "He's five years old, sound as a dollar and goes ten miles without stopping."
The German threw his hands sky-ward.

"Not for me," he said, "not for me.
I live eight miles from town and mit dot horse I haf to walk back two miles."—National Monthly.

American View.

"So you don't approve of those London suffragettes?"
"I don't know much about them," replied Miss Cayenne, "but I certainly feel that a woman who can't subdue
a few men without the use of dynamite
is something of a failure."

Valuables.

"That rural delivery man says he doesn't find the cost of living particularly high."
"No, he always comes back over his route after nightfall, and he almost always finds a chicken or two roosting on the mail boxes."

That's Different.

Bacon—I understand your friend
only earns about $300 a year.
Egbert—What are you talking about! Why, he gets $3,000 a year.
"I'm not talking about what he gets,
but what he earns. He's got a political job, hasn't he?"

How the Other Half Lives.

"How, now, Geraldine?"
"I am investigating the conditions that surround poor working girls."
"Their lot is often trying."
"Indeed it is. Why, half of them go to work without chaperones, Clar-ice."

BEARS FOUGHT IN ZOO PEN

Bout at New York Lasted Only Two Rounds, but Was Exciting and Ended in Knockout.

If a member of the state boxing
board had happened to be in the Bronx zoo when Count, a handsome grizzly bear, and Chief, his sulky mate, decided to settle their difference, this story wouldn't have been written, remarks
the New York Journal.

But the commissioner wasn't present, so Count was knocked out by a foul blow and is under the care of a doctor. Chief isn't doing any talking,
but one look at him, as he struts about his cage, shows that he is fully aware of the fact that he is the undefeated champion.

The bout took place in the bears' cage at the zoo. The fight started off with both contestants cautious and holding back for an opening. Count believed he saw a clear path to Chief's solar plexus, but when he tried with his right paw he was almost tumbled over by a blow that looked to the few spectators as though it were propelled
by a couple of sticks of dynamite.

Count was stunned and fell into a hugging match to recover his strength.
The end of the round found them still clutched tightly in each other's grasp.
Round No. 2 started off well enough for Count. He managed to successfully navigate his ponderous paw to Chief's midships. It was a left jab that brought forth a grunt of agony.

But Chief proved to be a bear for punishment. He came back for more and got it, too. Two blows in quick succession landed on his nose. Greatly enraged, he rushed blindly at Count and landed two blows below the belt, in violation of the marquis of Queensberry rules. Count sank to the floor. He got up, however, and hugged Chief about the neck. He was still weak from the effects of the blows and offered but feeble resistance when Chief picked him up and hurled him to the concrete floor, a distance of 30 feet. Count fell on his back for the count and was motionless when Keeper Snyder reached him. A doctor was summoned and Count was carted off to the hospital to be patched up.

It is probable that a law to prohibit further fights at the zoo will be passed.

Jap Street Mystery Cleared.

On every available billboard in every Japanese city one has noticed the picture of a man in an admiral's full dress uniform. At first the conclusion was that it was meant for the late mikado.
Then one decided that the picture was used to advertise a brand of cigarettes.
One saw a procession of men carrying the same picture on banners in Shanghai. The secret is now out. The posters and the banner advertise a brand of pink pills, of the simple composition of most pink pills, and the man whose picture appears is that of the proprietor of this household remedy, who has made a great fortune out of his medicine. He does up his pills in all sorts of little conveniences, such as match boxes, powder boxes, and so on, and there is a little button which you push and force out a dose of three,
and people like to play with them. Besides, say American residents here,
the Japanese are mad over patent medicines and like to take them continually.

GOOD BODYGUARD.

A three-year-old Pennsylvania boy has an effective bodyguard—Pete, an enormous gander. Pete is always at the boy's side when the lad is out of doors. Recently a dog came toward the boy in a menacing manner and was promptly knocked to the gutter
by a powerful flop from one of Pete's wings.

Appropriate Wedding Costume.

D. L. G. writes: "Kindly tell me what is the proper costume to wear
at a wedding. Also please suggest a suitable present."

If a morning wedding, shoes should be worn on both feet, as unfriended ankles are not derelict in ultrafashionable circles before 6 p. m. It would be well to wear socks inside the shoes
unless they happen to be in the wash.
Ear tabs of pale lavender silk and a coonskin cap would raise you out of the ordinary rut of guests and insure mention in the local newspaper.

Acceptable gift would be a ton of coal or a carload of ice, according to the season.

Our Bureau of Social Requirements
is always at the service of readers.
Send in your heart throbs.—New York Herald.

Worshiper or Supplanter?

An amusing case of hero worship,
or something opposite, on the part of a humble admirer of the Rt. Hon. D.
Lloyd George, British chancellor of the exchequer, has just been reported from Wales. When visiting Criccieth recently a pedlar called at the chancellor's residence and begged a pair of Mr. Lloyd George's cast-off shoes. On getting them he had them repaired, and now proudly boasts that "indeed, he is in Lloyd George's shoes."

DREAM IS RUDELY SHATTERED

Collegian Falls in Love With Adorable Creature With Bewitching Hair and Angelic Smile.

Love came at first sight to the young man when he saw her. She was behind the soap counter, dispensing perfumed soap to those who wished to buy it, and she was all his impressionistic fancy favored in woman.

Her face was adorable. Her hair was coiled bewitchingly. Her slender fingers were deliciously pink. Her dress, being neat and inexpensive, revealed an economic nature, while a necklace prevented the aspersions of parsimony. The young man, just from college, with high intellectual notions and yet sensible opinions as to necessary thrift, believed her to be his affinity. He knew that, taken from the department store and placed in the social environment that was his, she would scintillate and charm.

He determined to have a word with her—to please his ears with the music of her voice! for he was sure her voice must be musical. Elsewhere he would have waited for the convenient introduction; here, where she sold soap, the matter of meeting was made obvious. He approached.

"Will you let me have a five-cent bar of soap?" he asked—which, though commonplace, was as good as anything else for him to say.
She smiled angelically, revealing poetic, pearly teeth.
"We ain't got no five-cent cakes," she told him; "them in the case is ten and twenty-five."

He turned away. His romance had died a burning.—New York Times.

HAD BEEN THERE.

Henderson—What is sadder than disappointed love?
Henpeck—Disappointed marriage.

His Sad Story.

A fellow we know—one of those chaps who affect a terrible scorn for the lower classes, but who always pauses to hear a tale of woe from the lowest victim of the present state of society—this fellow stopped on the curb the other day to hear the story of a little pickaninny who was weeping and alone.

"What's the trouble?" asked our friend gruffly.
"Ah got a new baby brother at ouah
house!" wailed the child.

"Then why do you cry? Angels bring baby brothers."
"Dass what dey done tol' me. But why does de angels pick out all the blackest ones fo' ouah family?"

Speaking of Ants.

The American truth teller was in form. "Talking of ants," he said,
"we've got 'em as big as crabs out west. I've seen 'em fight with long horns, which they use as lances, charging each other like savages."

"They don't compare with the ants
I saw in the east," said an inoffensive individual near by. "The natives have trained them as beasts of burden. One of 'em could trail a ton load for miles with ease. They worked willingly, but occasionally they turned on their attendants and killed them."

But this was drawing the long bow
a little too far.

"I say, old chap," said a shocked voice from the corner, "what sort of ants were they?"

"Elephants," replied the inoffensive
individual.

None Safe.

"You admit, then," inquired the magistrate severely, "that you stole the pig?"
"I suppose I must," said the prisoner.

"Very well," returned the magistrate with decision. "There has been a lot of pig stealing going on around here lately, and I am going to make an example of you or none of us will be safe."—Tit-Bits.

Free From Tobacco.

"I thought I told you to quit using tobacco," said the doctor.
"I have quit it," replied the young man.

"Then what is that in your mouth?"
asked the doctor.

"A cigarette," replied the young man.

No Joke.

"Persistence will gain you fame and fortune, my son," said the sage.

"Oh, I don't know," replied the fool.
"If the dandelion wasn't so persistent
the blame things would be raised under glass and would be worth as much as American beauties."

Her Distinction.

"This foreign visitor of your wife's
—I understand she is a member of one of the most exclusive circles in France?"

"So she is. Belongs to the Paris Mothers' congress."

Preferred Locals.

WANTED—To buy green corn to feed mules on. C. H. LAYNE.
Advertisement.

See J. H. Dagg for contracting building and general repair work of all kinds. Phone 476.
Advertisement.

If you have a house or building of any kind that you want moved see R. C.
Lawson or call Cumberland
phone 878-2.
Advertisement.

Notice To Tax Payers.

The tax books are now ready and taxes are due. Pay now and avoid the penalty.
LOWE JOHNSON, S. C. C.
Advertisement.

For Sale.

One good second hand, 4 H. P., horizontal International gasoline engine, in good running order, at a bargain.
PLANTERS HARDWARE CO.
Incorporated.
Advertisement.

Tax Notice.

A penalty of 6 per cent will be added on city taxes Nov. 1. Better pay now.
Jno. W. Richards, C. T. C.
Advertisement.

Cavalry Horses Wanted.

We will be at Layne & Leavell's livery stable Monday Sept. 1 to buy Cavalry horses from 5 to 7 years old,
from 15 one to 15 three hards high.
Must be sound, without a blemish.
HARPER BROS.
Advertisement.

Wanted for U. S. Army.

Able-bodied unmarried men between ages of 18 and 35; citizens of United States, of good character and temperate habits, who can speak,
read and write the English language.
For information apply to Recruiting Officer, 107, 9th street, Hopkinsville, Ky.
Advertisement.

Growing in Favor.

The water from the well located on the farm of Luther H. Smithson, near Church Hill, is growing in favor
every day. The most obstinate cases of indigestion, constipation
and stomach trouble are yielding to the medical qualities of this water by a few days use. Probably half the people who say they have "heart trouble" have nothing but indigestion, sometimes manifestly in an acute form. Try the water from Mr. Smithson's well for a few days and test its virtues for yourself. He delivers it your home at 12 1/2 cents a gallon.

Among the many who are using it with beneficial effects we mention:
Flem Clardy, Muncey Moss, Roy
Kinner, Gus Breathitt, Jno. C. Hooe,
J. W. Lander, Rev. E. W. Barnett,
D. L. Henderson, John C. Gary.
See them. Telephone Coates' drug store or call 633, 5 rings.
Advertisement.

Unusual Offer To Our Readers.

For a limited time, and subject to withdrawal after 30 days, the well-known publishing house of the J. B.
Lippincott Company, Philadelphia,
founded in 1792, offers to the readers of this paper a 12 months' subscription to "Lippincott's Magazine" and a year's subscription to the Kentuckian, both for $3.00. This is the price of a twelve months' subscription to "Lippincott's" alone. Additional to obtaining every issue of this paper
for a year, our readers will receive in "Lippincott's," 12 great complete novels by popular authors, 105 short stories, crisp, entertaining, original; 45 timely articles from the pens of masters, and each month some excellent poems with the right sentiment, and "Walnuts and Wine,"
the most popular humor section in America. To obtain this extraordi-ary offer prompt action is necessary.
Remit to J. B. Lippincott Company, Washington Square, Phila., Pa.

CAP and BELLS
Young Woman Caught in Rain Telephone Her Dear for a Taxi and Receives Severe Jolt.

AMUSING MIX-UP IN NUMBERS

Ting-a-ling! Brrrrrr!
"Hello!"
"Hello, dear."
"Hello, darling."
"I'm down here at the corner of Calgary avenue and Nazareth street."
"Sure enough."
"Sure enough, and it's raining pitchforks, handles down. I just ran in here to keep from getting wet."
"That was bright of you!"
"Wasn't it? You know what it means if I go out in the rain."
"I reckon I could figure it out if I was to study it a little bit."
"I reckon you could. My new hat would be ruined!"
"The hats today are too flimsy."
"I'd have to have a new one."
"Naturally."
"And I expect you know who would have to pay for it?"
"De it!"
"Hah! I guess you do! I'd like to know what you would say if I permitted any man but you to pay for my hats?"
"I wonder what I would say?"
"I don't. Well, it's up to you."
"What is?"
"To telephone for a cab or a taxi
to come around here and get me."
"I can't do that very well."
"I'd like to know why not?"
"If I ordered it I would have to pay for it."
"Oh, please don't try to be funny all the time. It will only cost you a dollar."
"I must firmly but gently decline to pay a dollar for any such purpose."
"I'd like to know why you won't!"
"My wife won't let me."
"Your what—what—what—! What number is this?"
"4-11-55."
"Heavens! Ring off, you beast!"— Houston Post.

OTHER KINDS OF FISH.

She—Is Nokoyne a fisherman, too?
He—Well, I think he's angling for a rich wife.

Disappointed Boss.

Apologies of the temperance leanings
of various candidates Addison Mizner told a story, says the Washington Star.
"A boss," he said, "was dining two rival candidates. Harmony was highly desirable and the boss, hoping to establish a harmonious atmosphere,
said genially:
"Boys, what'll we drink with our dinner?"
"I'll bring buttermilk," said the first candidate.
"Give me a small glass of seltzer
and lemon," said the second.
"The waiter turned to the disappointed boss, whose red, fat, jovial face was wrinkled up in a frown.
"And what's yours, sir?"
"Gee," said the boss dismally, "I guess you'd better bring me an emetic."

Referred to Lexicographer.

Teacher—What is the derivation of the word lunatic?
Pupil—Luna, the moon, and—er—
atic, the upper story.—Town Topics.

Trial Marriage.

He (on the honeymoon)—Will you love me forever?
Modern Wife—No; but I'll make it
a year, with the privilege of renewal.
—Judge.

Couldn't.

"I wish nature could contrive some way to get all this heat out of her system."
"Well, she couldn't very well get it out of her solar system."

Don't Worry—Eat.

Memphis, Tenn.—Mrs. Emma D.
Looney, of this place, says: "I suffered misery for nearly eight years,
but since taking Cardui, I am much stronger, and I haven't missed a single meal. I hardly know how to express my gratitude." Don't worry about your symptoms—Cardui doesn't treat them. What you need is strength. Cardui helps you to get
it. Take Cardui, because other tonics and medicines do not contain its peculiar and successful ingredients, imported especially for its manufacture. Half a century of success, has stamped Cardui with the seal of public approval. During this time, Cardui has benefited a million women. Why not you?
Try it, to-day.

Discerning Thought.

Thoughts put on paper are nothing more than footprints in the sand; you see the way the man has gone, but to know what he saw on his walk you want his eyes.—Schopenhauer.

FAIR DATES

Alexandria, Capbell county, Sep. tember 27
Bardstown, Bullitt county, Sept.
2-7.
Barbourville, Knox county, Sept.
3-6.
Bowling Green, Warren county,
Sept. 24-28.
Elkton, Todd county, Oct. 2-5.
Falmouth, Pendleton county, Sept.
10-14.
Frankfort, Franklin county, Sept.
2-6.
Fulton, Fulton county, Sept. 2-6.
Glasgow, Barren county, Oct. 1-5.
Germantown, Bracken county,
Hopkinsville, Christian county,
Oct. 7-11.
Horse Cave, Hart county, Sept.
24-28.
Mayfield, Graves county, Oct. 8-12.
Morgantown, Butler county, Sept.
11-17.
Monticello, Wayne county, Sept.
9-13.
Murray, Calloway county, Oct. 1-5.
Paducah, McCracken county, Sept.
30-Oct. 3.
Scottsville, Allen county, Sept. 18-21.
Somerset, Pulaski county, Sept. 2-6.
Tompkinsville, Monroe county,
Sept. 3-7.

Farm For Sale!

Buy Dr. T. P. Allen's farm if you want a nice country home. It is for sale and he will sell to suit purchaser. It is well located and in a good neighborhood; contains 90 acres, 7
in timber, 2 in black locust, 12 in 7
year apple orchard, two good tenant houses, new stable and barn, 1 good well and cistern, two ponds; all under good fence. 1-4 mile south of Salem Baptist church, 1-2 mile west of St. Elmo school. Outlet front and back on public road.

DR. T. P. ALLEN,
Pembroke, Ky.

Advertisement.

Madam, Read McCall's

The Fashion Authority

McCALL'S is a large, artistic, handsome illustrated 160-page monthly Magazine that is adding to the happiness and efficiency of 1,700,000
women each month.

Each issue is brimful of fashions, fashionable, interesting short stories, and scores of labor-saving and money-saving ideas for women. There are more than 10 of the newest designs of the celebrated McCALL PATTERNS in each issue.

McCALL PATTERNS are famous for style, fit, simplicity and economy. Only 10 and 15 cents each.

The publishers of McCALL'S will spend thousands of dollars extra in the coming months in order to keep McCALL'S head and shoulders above all other women's magazines at any price. However, McCALL'S is only 50c a year; positively worth $1.00.

You May Select Any One McCall Pattern Free
from your first copy of McCALL'S, if you subscribe quickly.

THE McCALL COMPANY, 236 West 37th St., New York

NOTE—Ask for a free copy of McCALL'S wonderful new premium catalogue. Sample copy and pattern catalogue also free on request.

SPECIAL TO WOMEN

Do you realize the fact that thousands of women are now using

Paxtine

A Soluble Antiseptic Powder

as a remedy for mucous membrane affections, such as sore throat, nasal or pelvic catarrh, inflammation or ulceration, caused by female ill? Women who have been cured say "it is worth its weight in gold." Dissolve in water and apply locally. For ten years the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. has recommended Paxtine in their private correspondence with women.

For all hygienic and toilet uses it has no equal. Only 50c. a large box at Druggists or sent postpaid on receipt of price.
The Paxton Toilet Co., Boston, Mass.

Twenty Thousand at Educational Barbecue

CO-OPERATION was the keynote of the great Camden barbecue, which was held in the huge woods pasture outside of Versailles on the 20th. Many noted speakers from every part of the United States told of the effects of co-operation among farmers, but the salient point of this social and educational event was that the host and his neighbors and his friends were an example of what co-operation can accomplish.

Co-operation Helped.

Your correspondent was congratulating Mr. Camden on the great success of his educational barbecue when he smiled and interrupted him by saying, "I am delighted that you feel as you do about this affair, but the thing which has made it a complete success is the co-operation of my good friends and neighbors." Pausing a moment to point toward the big tent where the meals were being carved and sandwiches distributed, he continued: "A number of those white aproned fellows that you see in that tent busy slicing meat and waiting on the people are my neighbors, who are helping to make this a real success. No men here money could have created the splendid atmosphere that these good friends have. And the mayor and the men of Versailles have agreed that all stores shall be closed from 10 until 4 today. It is all co-operation. Tell your paper that this barbecue is as growing, progressive spirit that will make it a strong state in the near future.

Kentucky Has "Arrived."

It was not alone your correspondent who caught this feeling that seemed to be in the very air of the barbecue. Men who had traveled long distances to talk with the people about co-operation, men who had never faced a Kentucky audience before, sensed it. The evening of the barbecue three of the speakers gathered in Mr. Camden's home to chat over the happiness of the day. Twilight was deepening among the trees in the lawn and the last trolley car was leaving with the stragglers from the barbecue when one of the speakers turned to the others and said: "I'm going to make a statement, and I want you two fellows to say what you think of it. You, like me, happen to be from a far northern state, and you should be able to judge if I'm right in what I say." He stopped talking, looking out among the shadows that grew among the trees as if to gather his thoughts properly; then he continued: "I came down to this barbecue wondering what I would see. I had heard, of course, that Kentucky was beginning to think about co-operation, education and many other things. Why, she isn't beginning; she has begun. It was written large all over those people today. Things will happen in Kentucky from now on, and happen fast. SHE HAS ARRIVED. If I should leave roasting meat and night had settled over the hills the barbecue grounds became a mass of shifting grotesque shadows, savory odors and wood smoke. By early morning the five huge kettles were bubbling contentedly with rich, thick old fashioned burgoo. It seemed as if enough food had been prepared overnight to feed an army.

Several gentlemen were standing near one of the numerous tanks that were kept filled with ice and water for the thirsty crowd. At length one of them remarked: "I'm as thirsty as I can be, but I'm afraid to drink that water. It looks a little muddy, and I'm always afraid of getting typhoid fever when the water supply is as low as it is now after a long drought."

Water Was Analyzed.

The men were still hesitating when one of Mr. Camden's friends stepped up and remarked casually: "I think I can make you comfortable about the water. Mr. Camden usually does things up brown. He thought that there might be some danger, so he had this water analyzed to be on the safe side." Each of the men took several deep drinks and looked much relieved.

A Crowd of 20,000.

The crowd? Oh, it was estimated all the way from 10,000 to 30,000. There must have been the full 20,000 that was given as the heading for this story of the barbecue because 1,000 automobiles were parked on the grounds and more than that number of vehi-

ing which the speakers and your correspondent caught, the feeling that in some subtle way foreshadows Kentucky's coming greatness. The address is as follows:

Mr. Camden's Address.

"Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen—My friends, I give you, one and all, a most hearty welcome. I am truly delighted to have you here today.

"I hope you will allow me to tell you briefly what was in my mind when I decided to have this barbecue.

"Always in thinking of Kentucky I have a great inspiring vision. I have been in most of the states of the Union and have traveled in many lands, but I have never beheld a state or empire that has such material possibilities, variety of soil, diversity of products and other blessings as our own beloved state—old Kentucky.

"In ten years' time she will lead every state in the Union in the production of coal and, what is more, as time goes on will increase the lead and hold it, for she has a greater deposit of high grade coal than either Pennsylvania or West Virginia. It can also be truly said of Kentucky, as of almost any other country, that if we were absolutely isolated from the rest of the world we have within ourselves everything necessary for the development of a most advanced and prosperous civilization. We have in abundance the raw materials—iron, coking coal, timber, fire and porcelain clays, phosphate deposits, oil, gas and an endless variety of mineral wealth, a most varied soil, grazing lands and a beneficent climate.

ment. We are not living in the age of the coonskin cap and long barreled rifle. Our times are strenuously competitive and the degree of our civilization very complex. Realizing this condition, we should set about intelligently, with determination and our eyes open, to learn the value of organization and co-operation and to fully understand the destructive quality of unintentional selfish individualism.

"We must establish team work among ourselves. We must trust one another, if we are to prosper further as a people and advance the solidarity of Kentucky interests.

Future of Kentucky.

"I have an unbounded faith in the future of Kentucky and in the ability

Tanks Were Kept Full of Ice and Water.

Mr. Camden and Some of His Lieutenants.

Ladies Rest Tent.

George Jaubert Hurried About.

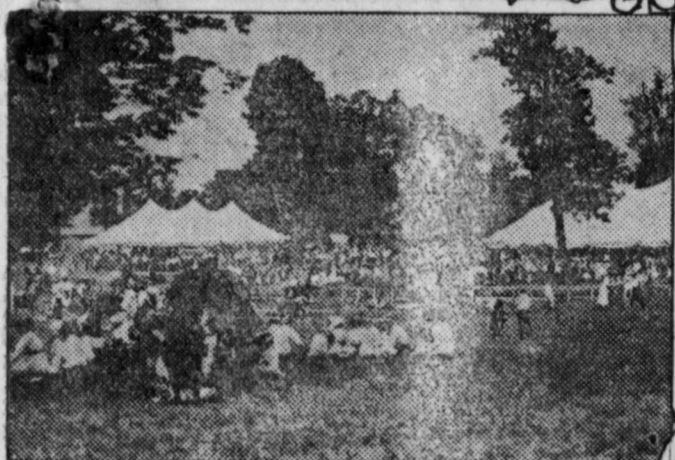

Five Huge Kettles Bubbled Contentedly.

The Sandwich Tent at Noon.

Basting the Roasting Meat.

The Burgoo and Sandwich Tents.

The Frames Were Full of Roasting Meat.

Peeled and Cut Fifty Bushels of Potatoes.

much Woodford county's success as it is mine. It is a success because of neighborly co-operation."

Neighborly Atmosphere.

That the huge crowd that began to arrive as early as 8 o'clock felt this atmosphere of neighborliness and co-operation, of which Mr. Camden had spoken, was evident. It was a gathering of people who were thinking; a crowd that had come to see and hear others who were thinking; a crowd that had on its "Sunday go to meeting" clothes and manners, for there was not a loud voice or a quarrelsome tone on the grounds the whole day through. Even the babies and children forgot to fret or cry while their mothers chatted with friends under the shade of the forest trees, and the men discussed crops and the drought. Everywhere there were good natured, pleasant laughter and smiling faces. It is not often that a host can entertain 20,000 guests and have nothing to mar the day. The meeting showed conclusively that there is a new spirit abroad in this wonderful old state—a here and be gone ten years I would not be able to recognize the state, I'm sure, because it will have changed so materially in that time. Am I right, fellows?"

"Sure you're right," answered the others in a breath.

Of course they had something to eat. By 1 o'clock the afternoon of the 19th wagons loaded with choice beef began to arrive, and old George Jaubert hurried about to see that the coals in the trenches were as warm as they should be and that the frames to hold the meat were steady for such a mighty load.

Preparing the Food.

Eighteen busy colored men sat on empty boxes chatting while they peeled and cut the fifty bushels of potatoes that were to be used in the making of the burgoo. When the 6,000 pounds of beef were in place over the glowing coals hay frame loads of dressed mutton came to the tables to be prepared for the trenches. It required three wagons to bring the 119 sheep that were to help feed the multitude. Later after the frames were full of gently cies were just behind them. Allowing an average of five people to the vehicles and automobiles gives 10,000. The interurban cars gave their figures as 5,000. Add to this 15,000, those that walked, those that came on horseback, on bicycles and motorcycles, and you will find that 20,000 is about right. These figures may be got at in another manner. In preparing to serve the burgoo to the people 14,000 tin cups and spoons had been provided, and they did not go around. Anyhow, it was fully as big a crowd as any one had hoped for.

Thirteen Speakers.

As there were thirteen speakers during the day, it would be an impossibility to give any idea of what they said. It is sufficient to say that each and every talk was educational in its tone. That the state at large may get an idea of all the talks it might be well to give Mr. Camden's address of welcome in whole. He seems to have caught and hugged close to himself the feeling that would show itself in the crowd at the barbecue, the feel-ties, variety of soil, diversity of products and other blessings as our own beloved state—old Kentucky.

"In ten years' time she will lead every state in the Union in the production of coal and, what is more, as time goes on will increase the lead and hold it, for she has a greater deposit of high grade coal than either Pennsylvania or West Virginia. It can also be truly said of Kentucky, as of almost any other country, that if we were absolutely isolated from the rest of the world we have within ourselves everything necessary for the development of a most advanced and prosperous civilization. We have in abundance the raw materials—iron, coking coal, timber, fire and porcelain clays, phosphate deposits, oil, gas and an endless variety of mineral wealth, a most varied soil, grazing lands and a beneficent climate.

Great Farming State.

"Yet, while the mineral wealth of the state is a vital thing and means more to us than we can now understand, to my mind the very soul and heart of Kentucky must always dwell in her farm lands and pastures, beautiful, gently rolling, the fairest and greenest the sun shines upon and fruitful as the delta of the Nile. Kentucky will ever be a great farming state, and the character of her agriculture will determine the character and development of her people. Some one has well said that a people cannot be greater or stronger than their soil.

"What I wish to draw attention to today and to emphasize is the well recognized fact that in mining, manufacturing and all productive enterprises the basic form of wealth is in itself only about 50 per cent of the problem involved. The other 50 per cent is in organization, which really means co-operation. Granting that our soil would grade No. 1 in fertility—which in many cases it will not do, though by intelligent and industrious methods it can be made to—now stand, with our imperfect system of soil education, organization and co-operation, we farmers are realizing but half of what we are entitled to from our farms.

Rural School System.

"As an illustration of what can be accomplished by education and co-operations, I placed on the first page of our program the rural school symbol of Denmark, the owl perched on a spade, the union of wisdom and labor. To follow the matter still further, I will say that the unique and great little kingdom of Denmark has practically the same population as Kentucky, but Kentucky has almost three times as great an area, with an incalculably greater variety of resources. From the standpoint of a Kentuckian, the only resource that Denmark has is in her people, as it is a flat country, with very thin soil, and we would consider it almost impossible to extract a living from it. It has no mines, no forests, no mills or manufacturing plants. It is devoted almost exclusively to dairy work. Its climate is bad and inhospitable beyond expression. There are only sixteen weeks in the year when it is possible to turn the cattle out. And then, for economy, they are tethered carefully in the fields, so that no grass or clover will be wasted by being trampled upon. In spite of these most unfavorable farming conditions, Denmark is the only country in the world today where the city population is decreasing and the rural population increasing, owing entirely to its advanced rural school system.

"Notwithstanding these adverse and harsh natural conditions the export of butter in 1911 was about 229,320,000 pounds, and to Great Britain alone it amounted to $51,142,715. The total amount of cream and milk exported amounted to $4,121,520.

"The money value of eggs exported in the same year amounted to $7,906,000.

"The export of bacon from Denmark in the same year amounted to 252,252,000 pounds, or a cash value of $32,352,900, making a total cash valuation of exports of $95,953,195, in addition to what was consumed at home.

Denmark's Example.

"Furthermore, the country is so flat and wet that the dreaded foot and mouth disease (practically unknown to us) has to be unceasingly watched.

"This truly marvelous result was brought about by education, co-operation and governmental aid. It was really through great misfortune and distress that the Danes worked out these great results and evolved into a wonderful people. In 1863, when Bismarck annexed Schleswig-Holstein, Denmark was in the blackest despair. Financial ruin stared her in the face. It was then determined to try to lift the dark cloud that enveloped her by establishing the rural schools which now dot every part of her country.

Individualism Harmful.

"With us the chief obstacle to organization and co-operation, to my mind, is the intense individualism of the Kentuckian. That spirit of self reliance, indomitable will and courage to stand alone and all sufficient, which made him the greatest pioneer the world has ever known, is in a measure a detriment now and blocks his further progress and material develop-

Perilous Boating.

On the west coast of Ireland, near the mouth of the river Shannon, are several large sea caves which open into each other. But the visitor needs a good guide and a good boatman, for the sea in this labyrinth of caves is intricate. On one occasion, writes Aubrey de Vere in his "Recollections," soon after a party had entered the boatman suddenly shouted, "Bend down your heads for your lives!"

No one saw any danger, but the boatman felt the placid water insensibly rising and knew that the tide had turned. At last the visitors knew this, too, for it was not until the boat had ascended within a few inches of the roof that it began to descend.

"Pull your best!" exclaimed the man at the helm. "If the second wave reaches us, we are lost!" But before the second wave reached the cave the boat had issued from its mouth.

No Wonder She Blushed.

"That's a nice looking fellow who's just come in," said the young man who was dining with his best girl. "Is he a friend of yours?"

"Yes, indeed, I know him well," laughed the maiden.

"Shall I ask him to join us?" "Oh, George," said the girl, blushing, "this is so sudden!"

"Sudden? What do you mean?" he asked in surprise.

"Why—why, that's our young minister."—Ladies' Home Journal.

He Could Talk.

A Washington society dame was receiving an Indian chief and she wished to be very gracious. As he approached she extended a beautiful hand and grunted in guttural monotone, "How?" "I am quite well, thank you," responded the red man.—Washington Times.

L. & N.

Time Card No. 136

Effective Sunday, Jan. 5, 1913.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

No. 98—C. & N. O. Lim. 11:56 p. m.
No. 51—St. L. Express 6:35 p. m.
No. 99—Dixie Limited, 10:41 p. m.
No. 95—Dixie Flyer, 9:01 a. m.
No. 55—Hopkinsville Ac. 7:18 a. m.
No. 53—St. L. Fast Mail 5:33 a. m.

TRAINS GOING NORTH.

No. 92—C. & St. L. Lim., 5:25 a. m.
No. 52—St. Louis Express, 9:25 a. m.
No. 98—Dixie Limited, 7:03 a. m.
No. 94—Dixie Flyer, 6:53 p. m.
No. 56—Hopkinsville Ac. 8:55 p. m.
No. 54—St. L. Fast Mail, 10 p. m.
Nos. 95 and 94 will make Nos. 90 and 91's stops except 94 will not stop at Mannington and No. 95 will not stop at Mannington or Empire.

Nos. 5 and 54 connect at St. Louis for east west.

No. 51 connects at Guthrie for Memphis and points as far south as Erin, and for Louisville, Cincinnati and the East.

Nos. 53 and 55 make direct connections at Guthrie for Louisville, Cincinnati and all points north and east thereof. Nos. 53 and 55 also connect for Memphis and way points.

No. 92 runs through to Chicago and will not carry passengers to points south of Evansville.

No. 98 carries through sleepers to Atlanta, Macon, Jacksonville, St. Augustine and Tampa, Fla. Also Pullman sleepers to New Orleans. Connects at Guthrie for points East and West. No. 93 will not carry local passengers for points north of Nashville, Tenn.

J. C. HOGE, Agt.

Tennessee Central

Time Table No. 4 Taking Effect

November 17, 1912.

EAST BOUND

No. 12 Leave Hopkinsville 6:30 a. m.

Arrive Nashville... 9:45 a. m.

No. 14 Leave Hopkinsville 3:45 p. m.

Arrive Nashville... 7:00 p. m.

WEST BOUND

No. 11 Leave Nashville... 7:55 a. m.

Arrive Hopkinsville 11:10 a. m.

No. 13 Leave Nashville... 5:00 p. m.

Arrive Hopkinsville 8:15 p. m.

T. L. MORROW, Agent.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION OF THE NEW YORK WORLD

Practically a Daily at the Price of a Weekly.

No Other Newspaper in the World Gives So Much at So Low a Price.

This is a time of great events and you will want the news accurately and promptly. The Democrats, for the first time in sixteen years, will have the Presidency and they will have the Presidency and they will also control both branches of Congress. The political news is sure to be of the most absorbing interest.

There is a great war in the Old World, and you may read of the extinction of the vast Turkish Empire in Europe, just as a few years ago you read how Spain lost her last foot of soil in America, after having ruled the empire of half the New World.

The World long since established a record for impartiality, and anybody can afford its Thrice-a-Week edition, which comes every other day in the week, except Sunday. It will be of particular value to you now. The Thrice-a-Week World abounds in other strong features, serial stories, humor, markets, cartoons; in fact, everything that is to be found in a first class daily.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD'S regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year, and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and the Hopkinsville Kentuckian together for one year for $2.65.

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $3.00.

We are prepared to do all kinds of high-grade job printing. Try us.

FOR ALL THE WORLD TO READ

Lovers' Rhapsodies Breathed With Questionable Taste, in the "Agony" Columns of Newspapers.

The agony columns in the newspapers reveal many a story of blighted and troubled love. Almost every day some lovesick youth and maiden make the newspaper the medium for the outpourings of their hearts, and their message often takes the form of the most extravagant rhapsodies.

"Why, oh, why, cannot we look into each other's eyes?" frantically implored an advertiser in one of the London dailies recently, addressing one "Fid." "I suffer every moment we are parted. Do break the silence and let us meet. Your own Jackie."

Even this, however, was not quite so extravagant in style as that of a romantic "Romeo" who thus addressed his divinity through the medium of a prominent provincial paper. "Last night I looked at your last letter. Thanks, my soul, my queen, my star. I think of the future and tremble with dread. My heart beats in unison with yours. If we never meet again, dear one—no, that is unendurable, and I only exist to behold again your beautiful countenance. Until then, desolation and misery is mine."

Who was the lovelorn Frenchman who thus addressed his London sweetheart in a certain agony column. "My own heart, thine Alfonso waits for thee near the marble arch. The sun is cold until I see thee. When thou appear, thine eyes sparkle with the love that springs from a tender heart. Don't forget."

And it was another sentimental Frenchman who told the world his feelings in these words, printed in a Paris newspaper:

"Thy feet make music in the stone-clad streets; thy voice intoxicates the gods; thy ears were made for whispering loves, thy lips for passionate kisses. Won't you write to me?"

Let us hope she did, if only as a reward for such compliments.—London Tit-Bits.

Uruguay and Hens.

The little republic of Uruguay is not heard of very often in this part of the world. She has succeeded in establishing a lack of revolutions; there is a corresponding lack of news from her capital. Her government has contracted the habit of living up to its obligations, and in consequence does not have occasion to appeal to the Monroe doctrine as a means of escaping from European compulsion to pay her debts. Not having internal disturbance or apprehension of trouble abroad, the government of Uruguay is able to give attention to the promotion of the welfare of the people, and among other things has become interested in the subject of poultry. Possibly some one in official position at Montevideo, or some Uruguayan consul in this country, has noticed in the census reports that the value of the fowls raised in the United States in 1909 was more than $200,000,000, and that the eggs from these fowls in that year amounted to more than a billion and a half dozen. At any rate, the government of Montevideo has become convinced that the American hen, if it will settle down and do business in Uruguay, would be an excellent thing for that country.

"Reserve" Seats in Lifeboats.

During an inquiry into the loss of the Titanic, the suggestion was thrown out that seats in the lifeboats should be numbered in accordance with the passenger's ticket. That proposal has found favor with one of the Japanese steamship companies, a coupon being attached to the regular ticket "reserving" a seat in a certain lifeboat for the holder, who is requested immediately upon going aboard to become familiar with the location of his boat and the place that has been allotted to him. If this rule is observed, confusion in time of crisis should be reduced to a minimum, always granting, of course, that the passengers do not become panic stricken.

Peculiar Family.

Little Bill was watching his mother dress her hair. Being cold weather, it "snapped" when she brushed it, and Bill wanted to know why.

"Because there is so much electricity in it," answered mamma.

The boy sat in silence for some moments, then burst out with:

"We must be an awful funny family, mamma. Grannie has gas in her stomach and you have electricity in your hair."

Opinion on Hosiery.

A plump little woman stood beside a counter in a big store where "bargains in ladies' hose" were on sale. She selected a pair and held it toward the small boy who was assisting the salesladies, saying:

"I'll take six pairs like this."

The boy glanced from the hose to the lady and coolly drawled:

"I wouldn't if I were you; cheap hosiery is never elastic at the top."—National Monthly.

Hydroplane of Steel.

A resident of Boom, Belgium, has built a hydroplane entirely of steel instead of wood. The boat is about sixteen feet long and weighs 360 pounds. It has a specially constructed rudder, which enables it to turn at high speed in a narrow channel. The 24-horse power motor is of the four-cylinder type and weighs 400 pounds.

Not Always.

"The girl who shines in society," remarked the Observer of Events and Things, "doesn't always brighten up her own home."

WIT and HUMOR

JOKE IS IMPROVED BY AGE

New Jests Are Strangers and Received Coldly—Ade Tells Story of Dying Humorist.

George Ade at a picnic at Hazelden Farm said:

"The older a joke the better it is. A joke we've heard is like music we've heard—a dear friend. New jokes are strangers and we greet them coldly."

"You've heard about the wise manager—Frohman or Belasco, no doubt—who said to the comedian:

"Cut out those old jokes next week—the public is getting tired of them—and put in some older ones."

"You've heard, too—for you couldn't hire me to repeat a new joke—the story about Bill Nye, or Mark Twain, or some such popular humorist, who, on his death bed, called his son to him and said:

"My son, I can't leave you any money, for my money I spent as fast as it came in. I can't leave you any fame, for fame cannot be shared. But there's an heirloom handed down from my great-grandfather to my father and thence to me; and this heirloom, properly utilized, will keep you in affluence and honor, my son, even as it has kept me and my forebears these many generations."

"So saying, the humorist placed in the young man's hands a worm-eaten and dog-eared copy of 'Joe Miller's Joke Book' and passed quietly away."

Age in Daughters.

Mr. Jenkins was talking with a young man who he hoped might become his son-in-law. Wishing to encourage the young man, who had little of this world's goods, the old gentleman said:

"I am proud of my girls, and there is nothing better than to see them married to bright, smart young men. I have made considerable money, and the girls won't go to their husbands penniless, by any means. Now, there's Belle, twenty-five years old, one of the best girls in the world. Then next comes Carolina, who won't see thirty-five again, and I shall give her $20,000. And the man who marries Della, who is forty, will have $30,000."

The young man reflected for a moment or two, and then inquired:

"You haven't got a daughter about fifty, have you?"—Harper's Bazar.

Force of Habit.

Visiting Manager—Got any stage door Johnnies in this burg?

Janitor (of Town Hall theater)—Well, I guess! Why, I had a movin' picture show here one night last week an', honest to gosh, if some of them there pests didn't hang around the stage-door till midnight a-waitin' for the actresses to come out!—Puck.

Her Last Resort.

Attorney—"and I am sure you will find, madam, that this is the best course to adopt—in the event of your friendly letter failing to produce the effect we desire."

Client—Yes, I see, Mr. Jones; if I cannot get what I want by fair means, I must put the matter unreservedly into your hands.

IN THE SPRING.

The Optimist—How's business now? The Pessimist—Fine! Did you ever know it to fail when you wanted to lay off and go to a baseball game?

Reversal.

"People appear to be copying the stage in matters of clothes, speech and manners," said the man who works.

"Yes," replied Stormington Barnes. "The adage has been reversed and Nature is now holding the mirror up to the stage."

Efficiency.

Mamma—Oh, Willie, was that little hand made to strike sister? Willie—No, mamma, but it works bully. (And he soaked her another one.)—Yale Record.

EASY TO BECOME A SWIMMER

Writer in New York Sun Tells How to Acquire Art, But He May Be Factious.

There are many ways to learn how to swim. One way is to be born a tadpole. Another way is to be tossed into the deepest part of the old swimming hole by one's considerate—but firm—companions and then told to come ashore by one's own efforts. If one thereupon comes ashore, one has learned to swim. If one does not come ashore, then one has very probably drowned, which is practically the same thing as swimming, with a reverse English on the after effects.

The best way to learn to swim, however, is to charter a large ocean-going steamship, provision it with nautical food and some life preservers and set out with the firm determination to learn to swim. When you have reached the approximate center of the Atlantic ocean stop the ship and jump overboard. Head straight for the English channel. It gives one an object, a purpose, without which the struggle would not be worth while.

Now dismiss the ship, forgetting to have it leave the life preservers. When the said ship is hull down on the horizon suddenly remind yourself that the life preservers are on board it. This will lend one an added incentive.

Strike out boldly, avoiding icebergs, whales and other fauna of the sea that might tend to distract one's mind from the task in hand. Arriving in the English channel do not stop to pluck sea daisies. The German war cloud might burst and drench one to the skin.

It is always best to dock at some port where tourists are common. In this way you can tell the story of your remarkable swim without the slightest possibility of being believed.

If these methods fail, it might be well to try a swimming instructor.—New York Evening Sun.

Lords of Language.

It was Wilde's proudest boast that he was "a lord of language," and no one can read "De Profundis" without paying homage to his verbal mastery. Yet, as one greater than he—Walter Pater—he wrote English as if it were a dead language. This deadness was common characteristic of the period. One doubts if a craftsmanship so deliberate as that of Pater and Wilde (and one must reluctantly include R. L. S. in this category, however, far removed from it he is otherwise) can produce anything but dead loveliness.

One need only to contrast the style of Defoe, of Swift, or to come to modern times, of Balzac in France and Mark Rutherford in England, with the style of Pater or Stevenson to realize the truth of it. Stevenson's style is the garment of his thought—a perfectly wrought garment of ceaseless fit, but still only a dead incense; the style of Balzac and Mark Rutherford is the very flesh of their thought, and it belongs to life even more than to literature.—Boston Transcript.

Horse Kicks Bear.

But for the heels of Jerry, a horse, 20 years old, Mrs. Georgia Perkins of New Marlboro, would have been killed or injured by a black bear she encountered in the woods, according to a Lenox (Mass.) dispatch to the New York Herald.

Mrs. Perkins rode Jerry to a patch of wild raspberries half a mile from her home and let him graze along the edge of the woods while she went to gather fruit. When she got deep into the thicket the bear suddenly leaped toward her. She jumped to one side and the big beast rushed on, striking Jerry's legs.

Startled and angered by the onslaught, Jerry doubled up and with one well-planted kick stunned the bear so badly that Mrs. Perkins mounted and rode away before it recovered.

Hunters from New Marlboro searched for the bear, but could not find it.

Doctor's Orders.

"I thought you'd gone away on a long vacation," said a friend of Danny Briggs, meeting that noted young post-impressionist hat salesman on East Fourth street Saturday.

"I did," answered Briggs. "I was ordered away for my health."

"You got well quick?"

"I did not. That crazy doctor of mine told me to get right away and take a long rest. So I went. Well, I was just comfortably settled and having a good time when along comes a wire from the doctor telling me to return at once. I hustled right home and went to his office to see what the trouble was."

"Oh, nothing," he grinned. "I just wanted to see how you were getting along, so's to find out whether I'd prescribed the proper treatment or not!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Valuable Timber in Alaska.

The existence of serious forest fires in the Chugach national forest in Alaska, reported now to be virtually under control, is taken by the forest service as a text to answer critics who have contended that there is no fire risk and no timber worth protecting in Alaska. The service points out that in the Chugach forest alone there were 28,000,000,000 feet of lumber, and that its destruction was prevented only by the timely action and scientific work of the forest service rangers. Severe fire damage has been sustained in the Chugach forest in the past, the officials declared, and added that evidences of such fires as far back as the Russian occupancy of the territory are plainly to be seen.

Kentucky State Fair

SEPTEMBER 15 to 20, 1913

The Kentucky State Fair will offer to the farmers and livestock exhibitors an opportunity to exhibit the best products of their farms and best specimens of livestock and to the women an opportunity to display their handiwork and cookery at the 1913 Fair, for which liberal premiums are offered.

$30,000 in Premiums

6-BIG DAYS-6

Reduced Railroad Rates

For Information, Entry Blanks, Catalog, Etc., address

J. L. DENT, Secretary,

705 PAUL JONES BUILDING

LOUISVILLE

The Love Letters of a Confederate General

WE begin in the November issue a series of real love-letters written over fifty years ago by one of our national heroes to his sweetheart during the period of '61 to '65. This great general will go down to posterity as having accomplished one of the most brilliant feats of arms in the history of the world. He was as great a lover as he was a general, therefore these letters combine authentic history and exquisite romance. They sound a human note that no other work of literature has done in a decade; it is war, it is romance, it is history, it is literature. You simply can't afford to miss this wonderful series—an inside story of the Civil War now published for the first time and containing all the freshness of a contemporary happening. These letters will grip you hard, and hold your interest from first to last. Fill out the coupon and send it now before you forget it.

Pictorial Review

15 Cents a Copy

One Dollar a Year

$10,000 in Cash Prizes

and Liberal Commissions to our Agents. Ask for Particulars

THE PICTORIAL REVIEW CO.

222 West 39th St., New York City

Louisville Daily Herald

AND

Hopkinsville Kentuckian

Both One Year For

$4.00

For a short time and until further notice the above special rate will obtain.

Let me send you FREE PERFUME

Write today for a testing bottle of

ED. PINAUD'S LILAC

The world's most famous perfume, every drop as sweet as the living blossom. For handkerchief, atomizer and bath. Fine after shaving. All the value is in the perfume—you don't pay extra for a fancy bottle. The quality is wonderful. The price only 75c (6 oz.). Send 4c for the little bottle—enough for 50 handkerchiefs.

PARFUMERIE ED. PINAUD
Department M.
ED. PINAUD BUILDING NEW YORK

"HONEST GOODS AT HONEST PRICES."

FOR RELIABLE WATCHES AND JEWELRY.

You must go to a Reliable, Competent and Experienced Dealer. We make a specialty of Fine and Reliable time-pieces for all purposes. Quality Guaranteed Best, prices lowest.

JAS. H. SKARRY.

The Peoples' Jeweler and Optician, Watch Inspector, L. & N. R. R. If You Buy It From Skarry It's Good.

LAST WITH PADUCAH

The Final Appearance To-
Day of the 1913
Braves.

ONLY A FEW MORE GAMES.

First Game With Paducah
Was a Slugging Match.

STANDING OF CLUBS.

Clubs.	W. L.	Pct.
Clarksville	67 42	615
Paducah	65 44	596
Hopkinsville	64 45	587
Henderson	60 48	556
Owensboro	58 49	542
Cairo	52 54	491
Harrisburg	37 73	336
Vincennes	30 78	278

The first game with Paducah Thursday was marked by a regular bombardment of hits on each side, which Hopkinsville won from Paducah by the score of 18 to 9. This was McArthur's last game, barring emergencies, with Hopkinsville, as he leaves Sunday to report to Pittsburgh, to whom he has been sold. Dayton's sore leg made it necessary for him to quit in the fourth inning and Cornell played center field. The last of the Paducah series will be played today.

Wednesday.

Clarksville 10, Harrisburg 3.
Clarksville 10, Harrisburg 2.
Owensboro 1, Cairo 2.
Hopkinsville 6, Vincennes 3.
Paducah 2, Henderson 3.

Thursday.

Owensboro 10, Harrisburg 1.
Hopkinsville 18, Paducah 9.
Henderson 9, Cairo 5.
Clarksville 13, Vincennes 6.

Ninth Street Church of Christ.

Services will be held to-morrow as follows: Bible School at 9:30 a. m.; the Lord's Supper and preaching at 10:45 a. m.; song service and travel talk on "ESDRAELON," at 7:30 p. m. Rev. H. D. Smith will preach and lecture. Mrs. Perkins and Miss Moore will have charge of the music of the day. All are heartily invited to these services.

The Duffer Home.

Work has been begun by the owners on repairing the cottage on the corner of Virginia and 14th streets, which was partially destroyed by fire last month. It will again be occupied by Geo. N. Duffer.

Shoots Policeman.

Joe McNeeley, a negro, who shot and wounded a policeman of Charlotte, N. C., was taken from the jail, where he was guarded by police, by a mob Tuesday and shot to death.

Engagement Announced.

The engagement of Miss Mary Agnes Wilford, formerly of Bowling Green, and Frank Kenneth, both of Asheville, N. C., has been announced, the wedding to take place, Sept. 3 at the residence of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Nan J. Wilford, in Cadiz, Ky.

Meeting of the Third Circle of Bethel Association to Be Held at Casky August 30-31.

PROGRAM.

1. The Personality of the Holy Spirit—E. W. Steger and L. B. English.
2. The Second Coming of Christ—Dr. W. S. Sandbach and H. E. Gabby.
3. Comparative Missions—Dr. J. D. Clardy and J. F. Griffith.
4. The Problem of the Country Church—Jos. Gary and E. W. Barnett.
5. Mountain Schools—J. A. Burns.

SUNDAY MORNING.

The Need of Trained Teachers in the Sunday School—Will Burt.
Sermon—J. A. Burns.

CROFTON LADY

Passes Away After A Long Illness.

Mrs. Lula Shanks, wife of Mr. Finn Shanks, died Tuesday morning at her home near Crofton. She was a victim of tuberculosis and had been ill for several months. Mrs. Shanks was twenty three years old, a member of the Baptist church and is survived by her husband and three children. The deceased was a sister of Mr. Otho Hunt, of this city. The interment took place near Mannington yesterday.

Changes Hands.

J. N. La Rue has purchased the Franklin Favorite from W. H. Bryan, owner and manager, since the death of his son, the late Stanford Walker Bryan, which occurred last May.

SUIT SETTLED.

Lander Brothers Win Out In Court.

The suit of John E. White against Lander Bros., all of Lafayette, over the sum of $3.50, which had been in the courts for some time, was finally disposed of in County Court yesterday, Judge Knight deciding in favor of the defendants. This was the fourth trial of the suit. Several speeches were made by the attorneys and the case attracted a very large crowd.

Foster Still Won.

The recount of ballots in the Pfanz-Foster contest for the nomination for Jailer in Louisville showed a majority of 629 left for Foster. Oral testimony will be heard and Pfanz's attorneys will ask for a "re-election" ruling.

Officers on Sick List.

Chief of Police Roper was on the sick list yesterday. Officer Shanklin was hardly well enough to be on duty and Officer Hadden was feeling so badly that if the other two members of the force had not "got there" first he would have laid up himself. Fortunately there is but little doing in police circles and the balance of the officers are taking care of the city.

Will Go to Frankfort.

A committee of citizens to the number of about 25 will go to Frankfort Tuesday night to appear before the State Railroad Commission Wednesday to protest against a rehearing in the freight reduction case, recently decided. Mr. George E. Gary will head the party.

Purely Personal.

Esquire M. B. King went to Dawson Thursday with the expectation of staying several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Crenshaw are going to housekeeping, Mr. Crenshaw having leased Miss Bettie Ware's house on South Main street. Miss Ware has taken rooms with Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Dagg, on Alumnae Avenue. It is currently reported that Miss Ware and Miss Jeanie Graham will soon go to Paris, France, to spend the winter.

Mrs. James West and son, William, will return from Dawson today.

Miss Annie Cuyce, who went to New York to purchase fall millinery for J. H. Anderson & Co., has returned home.

Gilson Warfield came down from Louisville this week to spend a month with his mother, Mrs. Sallie Warfield.

Mrs. W. R. Howell and Mrs. Geo. Howell and little son are expected from Richmond, Va., to-day.

Mrs. Mary Carl and Miss Laura Carl, of New York, are visiting the family of C. H. Hisgen, in Mechanic street.

Miss Laura Lowe, of the Bethel College faculty, has arrived from Grantville, Ohio, and is spending this week with friends at Pembroke.

Mrs. M. H. Wood, Miss Louise Wood and Mrs. Bowling went to Clarksville Thursday to spend the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. James Bowling.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hisgen and little son, of Albany, N. Y., are visiting the family of Chas. Hisgen, in Mechanic street.

Miss Annie Brasher returned from the West Thursday.

Col. Jouett Henry will return tomorrow from Camp Perry, Ohio, where he has been for three weeks at the national and international rifle shooting match.

Mr. Chas. Hisgen, of Albany, N. Y., is the guest of C. H. Hisgen.

Miss Ruth Cunningham, after a visit to Misses Mary and Ivey Mitchell, returned to her home at Cadiz Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Price, of Natchez, Miss., are visiting the family of C. W. Hisgen, in North Main street.

Carl Johnson, of Chicago, who spent his vacation here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Johnson, East Seventeenth street, returned to his home Thursday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Connell Maddox, of Bowling Green, are the guests of L. Hisgen and family, on Fourteenth street.

Miss Francis Hisgen, who has been visiting friends at Saint Bethlehem, Tenn., has returned home.

Miss Ruby Ward spent this week in Clarksville visiting friends.

Rev. J. A. McCord and Mrs. McCord, after a visit to relatives here, left Thursday for their home in Pinckneyville, Ill.

Prof. B. E. Thom, of Trigg county, has accepted the principalship of the Fairview graded school.

Mrs. Herschel R. Diuguid and daughter, Leila, of Memphis, are visiting Mrs. W. A. Diuguid, on South Virginia.

Mrs. Sam C. Todd has returned to her home in Memphis, after a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lander.

Mrs. J. A. Young and Miss Ellen Young, who spent the summer with Mr. and Mrs. Dan Young at San Francisco, Cal., returned home Wednesday.

Messrs. Henry and Samuel W. Huddleston, of Murfreesboro, Tenn., arrived Wednesday night for a few days visit to their sister, Mrs. C. O. Wright, South Main street.

Sold Lincoln Kids Toys.

Miss Kate France, the "Toy Lady" of Washington since Lincoln was president, died this week, aged 63.

Operation Successful.

Miss Bessie Carter, the popular ticket seller at The Rex Theatre, who was operated on for appendicitis at the Infirmary last Wednesday, is getting along nicely. Miss Carter has many friends and was a close contestant in the Kentuckian's recent prize premium awards.

Dr. M. W. R. Zell who spent several days in Mayfield on business returned home Thursday.

WATCH OUR Watch Window

Here is your opportunity to buy for yourself at a very low price---that GOOD WATCH which you have promising yourself for so long a time.

Having obtained special prices on these watches we are going to cut our profit in half and offer them to our customers at prices that are sure to interest them. We are not offering you cheap watches. On the other hand we are offering you GOOD WATCHES---Watches that you know by Reputation.

You can't afford to miss this opportunity if you expect to buy a watch in the near future.

This special sale on watches will last only a few days. Come in and let us make you prices.

REMEMBER THE FREE FAIR TICKET.

FORBES MFG. CO.

Incorporated.

Farmers, Read This Ad! IT'S CLARK'S

FLOUR---We are expecting Flour to advance any time, it is lower now than it was when the Millers were paying 80 cts. for wheat and now wheat is worth 85c.

Best Patent Flour per barrel for - - - $4.45

Sun Flour or Veribest per barrel for - - - $5.35

LARD---We sell Pure Hog Lard in 50-lb tins for - $6.75

BACON---Well, we have a big stock on hand, more than 10 different kinds. Best Smoked Bacon by 100 lbs. $15.50.

We want every lady in Christian and adjoining counties to call and see our big stock of Haviland China, Cut Glass and Silver. School supplies of all kinds.

We want your business---that's why we hustle for it.

C. R. CLARK & COMPANY.

INCORPORATED

Wholesale and Retail Grocers.

Baseball!

HOPKINSVILLE

vs.

PADUCAH

Aug. 28, 29 and 30.

ADMISSION 25 CENTS.